"SHERIDAN'S RIDE."—A correspondent of the Commercial gives the following account of the origin of Thomas Buchanan Read's poem of "Sheridan's Ride":

The idea of the subject of this poem grew out of a wood engraving after a design of the artist, Thomas Nast, which appeared in Harper's Weekly in 1865. James E. Murdoch, Esq., observing the engraving at a news stand in this city, purchased the paper containing it, and took it to his friend, T. Buchanan Read, the poet, and suggested to him that it was a grand subject for a poem, and, in his earnest and enthusiastic manner, urged his friend to work up the idea; to which Mr. Read replied in his characteristic manner, "You talk to me about writing a poem as though it were as easy as to go into Sprague's store and order a new coat."

This was only a day or two before the grand oration which was given in this city in 1865 in honor of Mr. Murdoch. Mr. Read said no more about it at that time. However, on the morning of the very day on which the oration took place, he withdrew himself to his room, and, in an incredibly short space of time, produced this celebrated poem—in our estimation the greatest of all his works. The poem was given to Mr. Murdoch, to be read by him that night. Those of our citizens who had the good fortune to be present in Pike's Opera House on that occasion will never forget the wild whirlwind of enthusiasm with which this poem was received. The patriotic feelings of the audience were wrought up by this poem, as rendered by Mr. Murdoch in his more than usually effective manner, to a point of enthusiasm rarely produced by the mere recital of a poem or drama.

The New York Tribune says: "We are authorized by Mr. Boutwell to say that there is no truth in the statement that any personal difference ever existed between himself and the late Secretary of War, in reference to the recognition of Cuba, or upon any other subject. The relations between General Rawlins and Mr. Boutwell were never for a moment interrupted by excitement and unkindness."

The Great Yosemite Bitters.
All hail! great benefactor,
Who to cure us of our ills,
Gives life to the disconsolate,
Without noxious drugs or pills.—
Drives disease from out the system,
Fills the heart with life and light,
With the best of all the tonics,
Downer—Great Yosemite!

With roof from out the valleys,
Where California's sun doth shine,
Giving wealth to us poor mortals,
Beyond the riches of her mines,
Wealth of health and happiness,
Its blessings none should slight,
Do you want it? Would you have it?
Use Downer's Great Yosemite!

Come ye sick, distressed, disconsolate,
Why should you pine and die?
Ye feeble, faint and languishing,
Come, these glorious Bitters try.
See how these quacks and nostrums,
Flow from the land in flight,
Giving place to his pure tonic,
Downer's Great Yosemite! jun 24-1f
